In cursive, copy a stanza from the poem “Firefly” by Elizabeth Madox Roberts.

I stood beside a hill
Smooth with new-laid snow,
A single star looked out
From the cold evening glow.
There was no other creature
That saw what I could see.
I stood and watched the evening star
As long as it watched me.

Your last handwriting assignment was an entire page. So now you get to do an entire page of drawing. Copy the picture, using the graph as a guide. Use a pencil so you can erase parts you would like to try again.

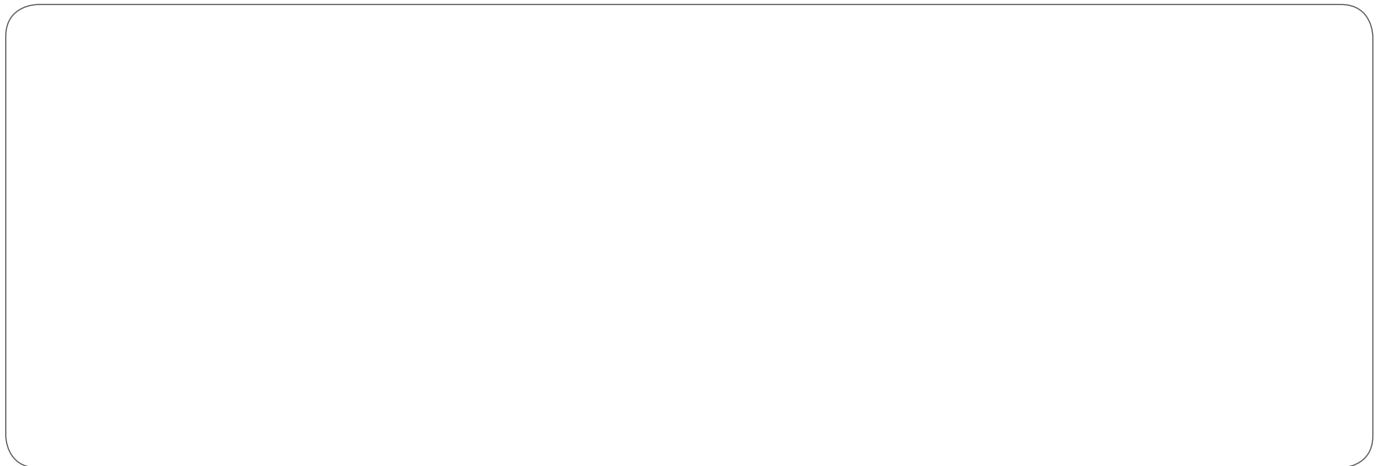

Handwriting

Note: If needed, refer to the cursive chart at the beginning of the course to complete this page.

Using cursive, write eight items you would put in a box to give to someone in need. Then, draw two of the boxes in the empty box at the bottom of the page.

Print your first and last name:

Using cursive, write the poem "October" by Rose Fyleman.

The summer is over

The trees are all bare.

There is mist in the garden

And frost in the air.

The meadows are empty

And gathered the sheaves

But isn't it lovely

Kicking up leaves!

Choose a leaf, and draw it in the box.
